All About Me And My Future

My name is Ariel, and I am from the second-largest city in the state of Georgia. People from the city would also call it the place where the Coca-Cola formula was invented. Columbus is my hometown and a place that holds a special place in my heart. I graduated from Carver High School, which was the 2024 2a State Championship winner. I like to spend most of my time on my computer playing video games or making city designs that I feel like doing. When I am hungry, I like to cook my favorite dishes, whether it be fried chicken or wings. I also sometimes make fried rice or Philly cheesesteaks. On my computer, I spend time making restaurant ordering websites or seeing how you can advertise or attract customers to a restaurant. While I am not spending time online, I like to take pictures because I think that it is cool that you are able to capture a specific moment. Whether the moment is sad or happy, I can take a picture that captures something unique and unexpected.

My current short-term goals are to pass all my classes, find new friends, and find a purpose to do while I am here. While they may seem easy to complete on paper, the hardest one for me would be to find my purpose to do. Right now me being here, I find nothing that I am interested in, and it would be difficult to look for it. I spend most of my time in my dorm doing homework or playing video games. Finding new friends is also a struggle for me, as I don't really engage in conversations with people and instead just discuss work or assignments with them. Passing all my classes is the easiest for me since most of the classes are what I took in high school, but did not get the college credit, or it was not offered. My long-term goals are to graduate and get a job that makes me have the impact I want. Graduating will require me to balance my free time and class time as the classes become progressively harder. A job that will make the impact that I want is working for the local DOT and focusing on making it more affordable and safer for people to travel.

I think that this course will teach us the importance and fundamentals of writing a college-level essay, and the steps from the beginning to the end of how to write an essay. Tells us advice and tips that we can and should use when writing our essay. How to come up with ideas or topics about what you want to write. Learn the tone that will be required and the strategies that you could use to make your essay more effective. Ways that you can write your essay to fit what is required and how you want it to look. I also think that we may learn some history about writing and how important things that we do in our writing came to be and got popular that we now use them in our writing. How different parts of the world write their essays, and how they compared to the ones that we write.

As an instructor, I think that you can help us best by making what we are learning easy to comprehend. Be interactive in the way that you teach by giving examples or demonstrating that class. If you can interact with the class and make it more than just talking and explaining things, it would be better for me to understand what you are trying to teach. You can also give advice that helps improve the way you write that might not be taught. Reinforcing the concept is also helpful for me to learn because repetition creates a pattern for me to detect, in order for me to learn and be able to demonstrate that I comprehend what was taught and be able to teach it to other people. A key thing that will help me also is you being able to explain my mistakes and how I can improve and avoid them in my writing.

The grade that I would like to earn in the class would be an A because I feel like that class will be easy, and if I put effort into it, then I will likely get an A. So far in the class, I have had easy work, and the assignments look simple, so if I pay attention and put effort, then I will get an A. I will always have in my calendar a list of all assignments that are due and have plenty of time in order to prepare and complete them to the best of my ability. Create a certain time in my free time where I focus on completing all assignments with no distractions, and see what assignments are due and how long I have until other assignments are due.
